Our internal quality control system is aligned with the:

- Code of Ethics of International Standards Board for Accountants (“IESBA”).
- International Standard on Auditing 220: Quality Control for Audits of Historical Financial Information
- ISQC1: International Standard on Quality Control for Firms, which encompasses the following key elements, all of which are elaborated further on:

- The requirements of Moore Stephens International.

Leadership responsibilities for quality

In accordance with the principles of ISQC1, the Board has appointed the Partner, Christos Tsissios, as Head of Assurance; he has responsibility for audit quality and for setting the assurance strategy.

Ethical requirements

Partners recognise that their behaviour is key to maintaining a strong ethical environment and culture. The Board has appointed Christos Christodoulou as the Partner responsible for Ethics.

Internal controls that support our ethical environment are routinely checked as part of the firm’s risk management procedures.

Acceptance and continuance of clients and engagements

Our firm has acceptance and continuance systems in place in all service areas to ensure that each client assignment is delivered to consistently high standards of professional and technical excellence and complies with the requirements of the Prevention and Suppression of Money Laundering Activities Law of 2007(L188(I)/2007) as subsequently amended in Cyprus.

Our audit engagements are categorised to drive appropriate risk management procedures. We only engage with clients where we have the necessary capacity, skills and expertise to meet client expectations and which will not prejudice our independence, objectivity or integrity.

A similar continuance procedure is required on an annual basis, or if there are any known changes in circumstances. Due diligence procedures are performed to all clients at continuance and the frequency is dependent on the risk rating of each client.

People and Culture – audit team structures

We implement high levels of expertise within audit teams. Engagements are partner led, with substantial manager involvement throughout the audit process.

We set high benchmarks for recruiting trainees and throughout their induction and training programmes, the need for ethical behaviour and quality is reinforced. We undertake thorough appraisals and continuously carry out mentoring, professional, and personal development courses.

Supervision, review and consultation

We have a strong culture of consultation, supervision and review, which is embedded throughout the audit methodology. Where appropriate, reviews by a second partner and the Head of Assurance provide additional levels of expertise and quality management.

Professional indemnity insurance

We are committed to the highest standards of technical excellence and client service, but in order to mitigate any remaining risk, the firm has arranged for appropriate indemnity insurance.

Engagement quality review

All audit clients whose securities are publicly traded, as well as high profile engagements, are subject to an engagement quality review by a second partner.

Monitoring activities

Internal audit inspections are carried out annually to assess the quality of completed audit work across various areas of activity and industry sectors. The reviews are risk focused and review teams are selected from outside of the department under review and in coordination with the other member firm in Cyprus.

In addition to our internal monitoring programme, as a member firm of Moore Stephens International Limited we are subject to the Quality Control Reviews (QCR) on a three years review cycles.

The QCR process includes an evaluation of policies and procedures of the member firm applicable to its assurance practice, benchmarking those policies and procedures against relevant policies and procedures of the international organisation. The team reviews financial statements, audit reports and engagement files and also the QCR Internal Monitoring Programme and ensures compliance with all aspects of ISQC 1 and ISAs.

Moore Stephens International Limited quality control procedures

In addition to our own quality control procedures, as a member firm of Moore Stephens International Limited, we are required to abide by a system of quality control that encompasses, at a minimum, the following standards issued by the standard setting boards of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), including:

- International Standard on Quality Control 1: Quality Control for Firms That Perform Audits and Reviews of Historical Financial Information, and Other Assurance and Related Services Engagements
- International Standard on Auditing 220: Quality Control for Audits of Historical Financial Information
- IESBA Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants.

Each member firm's system of quality control is designed to provide global and national management with reasonable assurance that audit engagements are conducted in accordance with applicable professional standards and global policies and procedures.

Member firms are required to have an effective internal inspection programme in place that meets the requirements of ISQC 1. Member firms are provided with templates to assist them in adopting their internal quality control programme. These templates include guidelines, work programmes, forms and examples of reports, all of which have been benchmarked against ISQC 1.

Supporting robust audit delivery

Moore Stephens International Limited views audit quality as an essential element of our business. To that end, Moore Stephens International Limited provides resources to assist member firms in maintaining audit quality, including:

- an audit methodology, with supporting software, that is recommended to member firms globally
- policies and procedures contained in audit manuals that are benchmarked against international auditing, quality control, independence and ethics standards

Each year further investment is made in methodology development, technology, training, communications and guidance toward the continuous improvement of audit quality.

Moore Stephens International Audit Review

Each member firm is obligated to monitoring review of its quality control programme, referred to as the Quality Control Reviews programme (QCR), at least once every three years. The QCR process is designed to monitor member firm compliance with professional standards and the MSIL global audit policies and procedures which are ISAs and ISQC1 compliant. The QCR is conducted by independent and suitably qualified reviewers, adequately trained under the overall direction of the European Technical Director reporting to the European Technical Committee.

QCR teams review the conduct of audit work performed by each member firm. The review process includes an evaluation of policies and procedures of the member firm applicable to its assurance practice, benchmarking those policies and procedures against relevant policies and procedures of the international organisation. The inspection team reviews financial statements, audit reports and engagement work papers and files and also the internal QCR Monitoring Programmes and ensures compliance with all aspects of ISQC 1 and ISAs.

External Monitoring

Moore Stephens (Limassol) Limited has had its latest monitoring visit by the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Cyprus (ICPAC) carried out by the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) on 23 and 24 January 2018.

Engagement with regulators

Member firms are expected to maintain an open and constructive relationship with their national regulators. This is consistent with our global policy of embracing external oversight, along with our support of a balanced public reporting of external inspection programmes.

Independence practices

Maintaining the independence of member firms, audit teams and other professionals is critical to sustaining public confidence in the audit profession. Moore Stephens International Limited is committed to ensuring that its independence policies and procedures are robust and provide clients of member firms, other users of audit reports and the investment community with confidence that Moore Stephens International Limited member firms and their professionals are independent and objective.

In addition to our own independence practices, Moore Stephens International Limited requires member firms to adopt policies and procedures that have been designed to safeguard independence on assurance engagements and identify circumstances that could pose a conflict of interest. The global independence policies and procedures are based on the IESBA Code of Ethics with supplements to govern compliance with our global independence and international relationship checking processes. Member firms are also required to adhere to their local regulatory requirements where more restrictive.

Global independence system and conflicts checking

Avoiding financial interests in an assurance client, or its affiliate, prohibited by the independence rules is a key objective in maintaining the independence of member firms and the client service engagement teams. Individuals and member firms are assisted to achieve this objective, through “Copernicus” - an automated tracking system that identifies restricted entities (issuers of publicly traded securities in which financial interests are prohibited or restricted). This information is made available to all personnel in all member firms.

Copernicus is designed to identify services provided by member firms to affiliated entities. The data is connected using the identity of the ultimate holding company (‘UHC’), irrespective of whether or not the UHC is a client of a member firm. An entity becomes a client once a job for that entity is entered on to Copernicus. An entity may be entered as a UHC without being a client; other affiliated entities should be entered only if they are a client. It is not intended that Copernicus provide a comprehensive list of entities affiliated with a particular UHC but only those that are clients.

Copernicus provides with the minimum information necessary to assess the nature of client relationships for affiliated clients and then for you to make contact with relevant individual(s) to clarify and resolve any potential conflicts of service offering.

Copernicus was designed in compliance with the IESBA Code of Ethics. This Code is also the national code for many countries. The detailed requirements of all relevant code(s) should be taken into consideration when determining whether or not there is a potential conflict or service offering. Data concerning affiliated entities may be relevant even where a member firm does not act for the Ultimate Holding Company in any capacity.

Client acceptance procedures

Achieving professional excellence means accepting and retaining member firm clients that share Moore Stephens (Limassol) Limited's objectives of quality and integrity. Moore Stephens (Limassol) Limited's global client acceptance/continuance procedures integrate with member firm policies. The acceptance/continuance processes provide member firms with information to judge whether the entity meets or exceeds necessary standards of integrity and whether the member firm has the capacity to perform a high quality audit.

The acceptance procedure is part of the Moore Stephens Quality Manual and the Anti-Money Laundering Manual which is based on a template provided and approved by Moore Stephens International Limited and the requirements of the prevention and suppression of Money Laundering Activities Law of 2007 as amended, respectively.

The firm's policies and procedures for the acceptance and continuance of client relationships and specific engagements are designed to provide the firm with reasonable assurance that it will only undertake or continue relationships and engagements where:

- Having considered the integrity of the client the firm does not have information that would lead it to conclude that the client lacks integrity;
- The firm is competent and legally authorised to perform the engagement;
- The firm has the capabilities, time and resources to perform the engagement; and
- The firm and its relevant personnel comply with relevant ethical requirements.

We are committed to ensuring that our people have the skills and expertise necessary to provide the range of quality services and technical excellence required by our clients. All partners and staff are required to keep up to date with the firm's own risk management, ethical and independence requirements.

We have both mandatory and voluntary training requirements, which are actively monitored. Internally, we provide technical resources and support which can include electronic technical updates, training workshops, professional and personal development courses and access to technical teams and committees.

While the majority of technical training takes place within member firms, Moore Stephens International Limited makes a significant investment in on-going training for audit staff in all member firms in the global audit methodology and supporting technology, and in IFRS, through its Train the Trainers (T3) programme and the Annual European Technical Conference.

Rotation of Key audit partners procedures

The Firm's quality manual which is aligned to the requirements of Article 17(7) of the Regulation (EU) No 537/2014 on specific requirements regarding statutory audit of public-interest entities in EU provides that key audit partners responsible for carrying out a statutory audit shall cease their participation in the statutory audit of the audited entity not later than seven years from the date of their appointment.
